

Faustus Legacy Brings a Horse's Passion to Art

When Michele Bronson went to a meditation retreat in Sedona, she had no idea that her first experience on the back of a horse would change the course of her life. But after experiencing the powerful impact being one with a horse had on her, Michele had to have one of her own.

After looking at hundreds of horses, Michele found Faustus, a gorgeous Friesian, who inspired her to create a business making stunning images that capture the celebration of the love and partnership between a magnificent black horse and his people. Faustus's nature and attributes are from all the colors of the rainbow of virtues. Michele feels that Faustus has inspired her creativity and serenity.

Michele's message with Faustus Legacy is "the art of freedom in all its splendor."

Faustus is the master of inspiration for these magical images photographed by Jeffrey Maitland and created for horse memorabilia by Michele Bronson.

"New creations are in our birthing room every day," says Michele, "and each day this wonderful black knight brings me more joy and fun. We recently bought him a little sister Friesian with the same rare bloodline as Faustus. Together they love their castle and share everything together." Michele's artwork can be found on traditional art prints as well as apparel and gift pieces. To add a pop of artistic innovation to your home or office, try one of Faustus Legacy's beautiful calendars or mousepads. Too see Michele's
